

Official documents on the Abolition of Slavery in British India, Ceylon &c - which you will no doubt see - Wishing you all prosperity in your noble exertions, believe me to be

Yours faithfully
W. L. Goble

John Scott Esq
London Sept. 7. 1843.

27 New Broad Street
London 7 Sept. 1843

81

My dear Phelps

I have been requested by the Committee to ask you to be so obliging as to forward them at your earliest convenience, either in print or in Manuscript, copies of the Papers laid by you before the general Anti-Slavery Convention, and which you took away with you for the purpose of polishing and perfecting them at home. And, perhaps, you will be good enough also to ask Brother Leavitt to do the same with the paper he took with him. The Committee wish to have all the papers before them with a view to publication, on which they cannot decide until the whole of the Convention documents are before them.

I have forwarded to Leavitt